

Louisville Democrat.

FRIDAY, FEB. 6, 1857.

Social Affairs.

The editor of the Journal does not respond to the request of circulation proposed. It continues publishing daily, a willful misrepresentation claiming "more than double the circulation of all the other papers in Louisville, put together," for its weekly.

This statement is as wide of the truth as anything could be, and we challenge the Journal to show that it has two subscribers to our own, or three to its two.

Horrible Accident.—A Gorman, by the name of Henry Hill, who went out gunning yesterday morning, met with a most terrible accident, which will doubtless cause his death. Arriving in the suburbs of the city he proceeded to load his gun, and after he had got most of the charge in the gun, consisting of heavy shot, the firing piece was rammed and discharged the contents tearing off the thumb and three fingers of his right hand, mutilating his left hand, breaking his jawbone, badly perforating his nose, and blinding both eyes. His injuries are considered fatal. Mr. H. is a young gentleman, had been married about a year, and followed the river sometimes in the capacity of steward.

Young America.—A diminutive specimen of humanity, about four feet from head to heel, was enjoying a convenient location, at the corner of Fourth and Water streets, yesterday afternoon. He was supported by an iron lamp-post, his mouth contained an extensive cigar, and his stomach was well filled with the critter. He bravely withstood the jests and jibes of the large number that surrounded him.

Something New.—We hear that our friend, N. D. Smith, Esq., a gentleman of ample means, and long engaged in the lumber business in this city, has made his arrangements to begin the manufacture of alcohol. It is understood to be a very remunerative business, and Mr. Smith has the capital and business tact to make it pay. His location will be in Second street, between Main and Water.

Five dead men (we mean dead drunk) were hauled along Main street a few days ago. They were on their way to that public and charitable institution, the jail. Judge Johnston would have had the pleasure of attending to their cases had not the friends of the afflicted unloaded the day and comfortably stowed them away in respectable quarters.

Exchanging a Coat for a Striped Jacket.—Wash, a slave of Dr. McCarty, was brought before Police Court yesterday on a charge of stealing a coat, the property of a Mr. Moore. The coat was returned to the owner, and the Court vouchsafed a striped jacket to Washington in return—twenty stripes to the back.

Committed.—We announced yesterday morning, that Wm. Fritz had been arrested by the First Ward police, on the charge of stealing a stove from Nathan Klein. Fritz was examined in Police Court yesterday morning, and committed, in default of $300 to answer the charge.

The furniture sale is continued to-day at the National Hotel by the Chancery Marshal. There are many desirable articles to be disposed of and bargains may be expected. Let all who are in want of furniture avail themselves of the present opportunity.

Louisville Female College.—The next lecture of the winter course, at the Louisville Female College, will be delivered by Rev. Mr. Heywood this (Friday) evening, at 7 o'clock. Subject: The Cost and Worth of Knowledge. Admittance free.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the State Mining, Manufacturing, and Building Company, R. T. Barrett, Esq., was elected President, and Wm. S. Bolley, Geo. E. Cook, Wm. A. Houser, and Geo. R. Gheislin, Directors.

Carr. Heavy's Sale.—Captain Heavy's sale of stock and property, a short distance in the country, took place on Wednesday. C. C. Green, Esq., the auctioneer, informs us that the sale netted $12,000, at good prices.

The ground will be broken next week for the commencement of Messrs. Wallace, Lathrop & Co.'s new foundry, at the corner of Main and Clay streets, and the buildings will be ready for use about the first of June.

We learn that two gentlemen from New York intend opening the "National Hotel." The house will undergo a thorough renovation, and every necessary repair will be made. We wish the National prosperity.

Another Saintly Day.—St. Valentine's Day is shortly coming to, to judge from the traffic in poetical missives relating thereto. The book-sellers are dealing out poetry by the yard to our sentimental young friends.

If there are those who suppose that life is shortened by the loss of sleep, we call their attention to some of the persons employed by private individuals to watch property on the landing during the night.

Officer Digh, assisted by a couple of Illinoisians, arrested a German yesterday morning on the wharf, and placed him in jail. He looked like he was the worse for a fight in which he had just indulged.

The steamer Madison has now been floated down to a place of safety. Capt. Hoople and Jim Sherlock have always an eye to business, and never permit what is entrusted to their care to be in danger.

The weather.—The weather continues very warm, with no present indications, however, of rain. Under foot it was muddy and disagreeable yesterday, but delightfully spring-like over head.

German Theatre.—Hirsionic Hall is becoming a very popular resort. The bill tonight is highly entertaining, which closes with a grand ball.

Adams Express.—We are constantly indebted to the Adams Express Company for St. Louis and Evansville papers in advance of the mail.

Messrs. M. P. Heady & Co., on First street, between Main and Market, have a fine lot of mules for sale. See advertisement.

Personal.—Messrs. John Young Brown and Ben. Selby, two distinguished Kentuckians, are guests at Owen's Hall at present.

The Susquehanna is the only boat now at the wharf. She is alone in her glory, and determined to face the cold music.

Bailed Out.—Hugh Cox, sent to the work-house Wednesday, was brought into Police Court yesterday, and gave bail.

Small Pox in New Albany.—We learn that this loathsome disease prevails to some extent in our sister city.

Thanks to Adams & Co.'s Express Messengers for Cincinnati papers of yesterday.

O. S. Fowler, the phonologist, is lecturing on his favorite theme through northern Indiana.

What has become of the Indianapolis State Sentinel? It seldom comes, and never when most we want it.

The Know-Nothing in the upper portion of the city having exterminated the "d—d" Dutch and Irish, are now about to exterminate each other.

The City Councils.—The two boards of Council met last evening, but adjourned almost immediately, without the transaction of any important business.

The Fire Last Evening.—The alarm of fire last evening was caused by the accidental burning of a small quantity of oil in the paint shop of Mr. Sherley, in Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth. The damage was trifling.

The Marshal's sale of splendid furniture at the National Hotel will be continued to-day at 10 o'clock, precisely. The finest furniture of every description will be offered. The presence of the ladies is earnestly solicited, as cheap bargains are to be had.

Personal.—We are indebted to our friend, Sergeant S. W. Hawley, of the U. S. Army, for five of Cincinnati papers in advance of the mails.

We tender our thanks to W. A. Putnam, Esq., of the mail service, for like favors.

There are several points on Jefferson street above the plank deck, where packs of unruly boys assemble and disturb and annoy persons passing them. They seem to take especial pleasure in annoying and insulting the ladies. Have we any police among us?

Horrible Indication.—A number of persons were witnesses to the fact, yesterday, that the driver of a wood-wagon sat upon his vehicle and saw, with apparent indifference, three sticks of wood fall from his wagon into the street; after which the driver continued on without an effort to recover them. A philosophic friend considers the circumstance a practical and hopeful indication of returning prosperity and comfort.

The illness, loquax, and hangers-on about the Police Court were started from their wonted listlessness yesterday morning, by an exciting outcry in the street, in the neighborhood of Court-house No. 2, during the sitting of that tribunal. Gawkling and hobnobbing to the doors and windows as rapidly as their business would permit, their vitiated tastes were gratified at witnessing the novel sight of hauling a drunken man to jail upon a day. Morals are at a discount down there.

Paying Dearly for the Whistle.—In reporting some clock cases which were disposed of in Police Court yesterday, we mixed up a couple of cases somewhat, and stated that Wm. A. Moore had been fined $50 for selling liquor to slaves. We were slightly mistaken therein, as Mr. M. deals very sparingly in "spirits," and only to the extent of home consumption. He was fined for carrying brass knuckles, which he avows were in his possession for a short time by the merest accident.

Theater.—Miss Hough had a rather large audience last night than on the previous evening, and strengthened the impression made on her first appearance. She has but little force or power, but possesses a pleasing manner, and renders a light character with considerable ease and excellence. Her Peg Woffington was the main attraction, followed by her Melchior. The bill in the afternoon, received great applause. Tonight she will take a benefit, presenting a very attractive bill, and we trust will have a large audience. The bill includes Wandering Boys, Our Jeunies, and Irish Assurance.

Call of the Police Docket.—At the regular call of the docket in the Police Court, yesterday, the following cases were decided:

Abby Fagin, free colored woman, for keeping a disorderly house, was fined $300.

Jane McManus, alias "War Eagle," for the same offense, was fined $500, and was sent to the work-house.

John and Adam Nan, for keeping a tipping house, were fined $60.

A large number of the liquor cases were laid over till Wednesday next.

George Winterhelt, for assault upon a man by the name of Griffin, was fined $10.

The troubles of the mails.—Our mails have been seriously embarrassed of late, owing to an adverse combination of the wintery elements. Last evening the entire Southern mail failed, which was owing to the failure of the Nashville coach to connect with the cars over the Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

The stage coach which brings the mails from all the towns along the Ohio line to Shawnee, town, Ill., has not arrived during the past two days. This detention is doubtless attributable to the obstructions by ice at Salt River.

Nearly all the mails by stage have been delayed more or less of late by the bad condition of the roads.

The Eastern mail, due at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, did not reach this city until 7 o'clock last evening, having been detained at Jeffersonville by the ice. The agent finally succeeded in bringing the mail across in safety.

At this season of the year the body undergoes a marked change. The blood requires to be purified. The nervous and muscular systems require fresh energy, and demand some attention to ward off disease. The best, safest, and most thorough remedy for this purpose is Harvey's Sarsaparilla. Thousands use it to purify the blood, and all admit it is the "only medicine" which will effectually accomplish that purpose.

Wanted.—Hurry, on the corner of Seventh, is doing a land office business in Quick West. The rush from the country has been so great that many of the town customers could not be supplied. He wishes us to state that he has on hand a large and superior supply, and will promptly fill all orders.

Wood's Hair Restorative.—This wonderful preparation is beginning to be known and appreciated in this and the neighboring counties. Its excellence has been attested by the certificates of some of our best and most honorable citizens. We ourselves have tried it and found it to possess almost miraculous properties: restoring color and health to the hair and scalp, and imparting a delicious freshness and glossiness to the hair. We advise all who are in need of a hair preparation, to try the infallible Hair Restorative of Prof. Wood. None will ever regret the price paid for this superior compound. See his advertisement, in another column.

For sale in Louisville by all the druggists, do as you like.

Nebraska Intensely Cold.—The citizens of this new Territory are said to be subjected to the severest cold of any State or Territory in the Union. A gentleman of this city received a letter, a day or two since, from some relations in this new land of promise, stating that though they had taken every precaution to avoid it, they were all severely frost-bitten. The relation in this city immediately forwarded him Porter's Oriental Hair Lotion, knowing, he said, it is to be the only certain, safe, and reliable remedy.

The Ferris.—Complaints are constantly made of the Jeffersonville and Louisville and Portland and New Albany ferries. We are informed that the New Albany company employs but one boat, which delays transit between the two points to a most vexatious extent. As an example of the doings between this city and Jeffersonville in the ferry line, communication was discontinued almost entirely yesterday, and the company cowardly stuck the noses of their boats under the point at the Tow-head, in maidenly fear of the ice which they honestly expected would begin to "crum" some time, if the river should succeed in breaking up. We are in favor of exercising a judicious care of property; but it is reasonable that the monopolists of the ferry privileges above mentioned, should not be altogether absorbed in self, at the expense of the public interest and comfort.

Tux River.—The ice commenced running in small quantities at this point yesterday, though the gorge did not break in earnest until last night. Hundreds of persons were attracted to the wharf by the sight. The most judicious arrangements had been made by the steamboat men at our wharf, and nothing was exposed to the floating ice that could possibly sustain damage. The river was rising rapidly all day.

We learned from Capt. Sherley last evening, who had just returned from a tour of observation up the river, that the Superior, Gen. Pike, and North Star had all shifted quarters and were tied to the Indiana shore near the point in the channel where they were so long ice-bound.

The Memphis continued to occupy her old position some distance below them. If they have stood the hazard of the night, they are doubtless out of danger.

Since writing the above, the gorge at Twelve-mile Island has given way. The ice tending toward the head of the canal, the river in front of the city at 12 o'clock last night was completely gorged. The Susquehanna, Capt. Williamson, and one of the Jeffersonville ferry-boats, at the foot of Sixth street, are thought to be in imminent peril, several lines attached to the S. having been already parted by the pressure. A movement of the ice is momentarily expected.

For New Orleans to-day.—The Fanny Bullitt will leave Portland this afternoon, at four o'clock. The boat is already freighted and is sure to go. Captain Dunham is an old captain of great experience, and we commend him and his boat to all persons going South. The Fanny Bullitt is a light draught, strong boat, and has proved herself one of the best on the river.

A Genuine Native.—A large, overgrown Indian attracted the attention of the little boys and some grown-up people along the levee yesterday.

It is now a settled matter that we will have an open river, and the resumption of the river trade.

Latest Intelligence.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5, 1857.
The Senate had up the Scott correspondence. Mr. Wells was satisfied that justice to both parties required that the entire correspondence be printed, although a portion of it was of an exceedingly angry character. Messrs. Bell, of Tenn., Crittenden, Seward, and Pierce thought such parts ought to be suppressed, although it would furnish a bad example. Public legislation did not require an exposure of the whole correspondence; besides, it would be painful to the friends of both the gentlemen involved.

Messrs. Jones, of Tenn., Clay, Stuart, Benjamin and Bigler advocated printing several of them, saying that a full exposure was necessary to the understanding of the entire subject, although much of the language in the correspondence is to be regretted. Let them stand or fall on their own merits.

Mr. Toombs was opposed to making the Senate a conduit for such private quarrels. Let the exposure be made by the press, and newspapers printing all the documents.

The Senate passed the bills confirming entries of land under the graduation act, and extending the time for selling lands granted to the Kentucky Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb.

Mr. Rusk introduced a bill for the transportation of mails from the Mississippi river to San Francisco.

The Report of the Commissioner of Patents for 1856 was received. Adjourned.

House.—Mr. Seward advocated the bill showing the advantages of the submarine telegraph, and maintaining that, if we can enter into postal treaties with foreign governments, and pay $500,000 annually to Ocean Mail Steamers' service, we have some power to assist in this enterprise, at less expense.

Mr. Maco regarded the matter as of much importance, believing it would lead to greater results than had yet been anticipated by any one in this House. It was connected with the postal affairs of the country, and with a view of extending to us the benefits of the telegraph to the Post Office Committee.

Messrs. Campbell, of Ohio, and Washburn, of Maine, severely said that this motion might defeat the bill.

Mr. Maco assured them that this was not his intention. Pending the subject, the House went into Committee of the Whole, the tariff bill being introduced.

House.—Mr. Chalmers in the course of his speech on Central American and Cuban affairs, said the Clarendon and Dallas treaty stands on a treacherous foundation, and hoped it would never receive the sanction of this government. He thought we had a right to expect a bold policy on this subject from the incoming administration, and not a truckling course for fear of Great Britain, which would be a danger to war. He intended to introduce a resolution to the effect that: Whereas, this House has taken occasion to express their condemnation of reopening the African Slave trade, they view with great concern the efforts made to introduce in white men or coolies under the British and Spanish flags. If members support this declaration with unanimity, it cannot fail to tell on the civilized world, for there never was a deliberate policy which has originated in so much weight, considering the large number of persons here represented and their intelligence, wealth and independence.

Mr. Stanton said there was no question as to the necessity of a reduction of the revenue, but this was essentially a manufacturer's bill, to the detriment of the agricultural classes. Fifty-two and a half millions of pounds of wool is the annual product of this country, and it is worth $50,000,000. Should this bill become a law, that interest will be stricken down, and against this he protested and argued.
